Consultation Services for Public Schools and Agencies

Bringing specialized services for students with disabilities & staff into your public school

Building Partnerships for Promising Futures

You Know Our Expertise

For decades, school districts in New Jersey have relied on the expertise of ASAH's private special education schools to educate students with disabilities for whom no in-district placement is appropriate.

Today, more than 10,000 infants, children and young adults are served by our member schools.

We appreciate that trust!

Do you know that many ASAH member schools and agencies also offer consultation services directly to districts that are working to support students with disabilities in public schools?

Approved private schools & agencies can provide:

- Specialized & Comprehensive Evaluations
- Educational & Clinical Consultation Services
- Behavioral Consultation Services, including Functional Behavioral Assessments
- Related Services
- Home-Based Services
- Itinerant Services for Students Who are Deaf or Hard of Hearing
- Augmentative Communication Services
- Preschool ABA Programs
- Support for In-District Programs
- Curriculum Design & Implementation
- Inclusion Support Services
- Staff Training & Professional Development Services
- Technology Consultation & Assistance
- Community-based Transition Services
- and much more....

Benefits of In-district consultation

- Recognized experts can help YOUR district build local capacity
- Customized services from providers you know
- Support around a single student, a classroom or an entire building
- Help bring students back into local programs
- Reduced out-of-district transportation costs
- Serve students with low incidence disabilities
- Create local programs that can also receive students from other districts
- You determine the degree of support you need.

Our Network of Approved Private Schools and Agencies Can Help
